

Green River

12 inch finished block

The Green River block is a simple 9-patch block from the Nancy Page Quilt Club. This was a newsletter available in the 1920s and 1930s edited by Florence LaGanke. We are going to take 4 of the nine-patches to make our square. You may be able to get a glimpse of the river, but that's about it.

Let's go really bright for summer - put the bright print in as the bricks, find a complimentary bright for the dots and a neutral for the light squares.

Colour the block on the right with the Colours of your choice.

Cutting:

Fabric	Size	Pieces	BOM Colour
	2 1/2 by 11 inches	2	Neutral
	2 1/2 by 6 1/2 inches	2	Bright Print
	2 1/2 by 11 inches	2	Bright Print
	2 1/2 by 6 1/2 inches	2	Complement
	2 1/2 by 11 inches	2	Complement

Construction:

First construct the strata needed - then cross cut for the block

Cut 4 - 2 1/2 inch pieces

Now construct the two A Patches and two B Patches:

A Patch

B Patch

Assemble the blocks into the 12 inch finished block.

Finishing your sampler quilt

The sashing between the sections are $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches cut, as are the inner and outer borders.

After attaching the first border, your quilt should measure 68 inches square. For the center border, you could use the nine-patches as shown below, or sew your leftover strips into strata and cross cut them to $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches for a piano key border, or even do some loose goose blocks.

To use the Green River block nine-patches, you will need 24 - A Patches, 20 - B Patches, 4 - C corners patch, and 4 - D strips (see below)

Assemble four side units:

Sew two units to the sides of the quilt, add a C unit to each end of the remaining borders and attach them to the top and bottom of your quilt.

C - corner unit

You will need about 230 inches of the strata (or $5\frac{3}{4}$ strips), and 4 strips of the dots and bricks for the nine-patches.

The corners you should be able to get from your 'leftovers'.

Depending on the fabric you chose, you might like to do a simpler or more complicated border - this is just a suggestion!
